OLA
'Magnolia Christmas'

Our Lady Academy will hold its annual "Magnolia Christmas" Thursday, Dec. 12 at Our Lady of the Gulf Community Center on South Beach Boulevard.

The 1996 Magnolia Christmas will include a shrimp etoufee dinner, served 5:30-6:45 p.m., followed by a concert.

This year's concert will include the OLA Music Department students as well as the Diamondhead Academy Honor Chorus and other guest performers.

Proceeds from the event will help enable Our Lady Academy Chorus to participate with the Mississippi Youth Chorus at a concert in Carnegie Hall in New York March 2.

Tickets are $5 and are available from the school office or at the door the evening of the concert. Call 467-7048 for details or tickets.

Joy Mehrtens, director of music at OLA, will be conducting the Coast Chorus in its debut performance in Vienna, Austria in early December.

Members of the chorus include OLA alumna Debbie Benigno and OLA senior Melissa Ridgeway.

Near fire disaster averted Saturday at Lakeshore school

BY RICHARD MEEK
 A potential disaster was averted early Saturday morning when the Clermont Harbor Volunteer Fire Department quickly extinguished a fire deliberately set under a 9,000-gallon butane tank that sits only yards from the Gulfview Elementary School Gym and near several houses.

A Blossman Gas spokesman said the tank has a relief valve, which would have prevented the tank from rupturing.

Hancock County Fire Marshal Richard Pate said reports of a fire were called in about 1:30 a.m. Saturday. It was originally believed the fire was set at the school's gym, but upon arriving at the scene, Pate said firefighters found a fire burning under the mammoth butane tank.

"He said neighbors were alerted to the fire when aerosol cans thrown into the flames began popping. Tires were also thrown into the fire.

"People just don't realize how serious this could have been," Hancock County Fire Marshal Richard Pate said. "It could have had serious ramifications. We could have had some serious injuries and fatalities considering the time of night and the proximity of the houses."

Firefighters were able to put out the fire before any damage was caused to either the tank or the school.

Pate said a $1,000 reward is being offered by the state to anyone with information leading to the arrest and conviction of the arson or arsonists. He said he has no suspects at this time.

Individuals with information should call Pate at 466-4709 or 467-5101.

Disability Bookshop Catalog

The Disability Bookshop Catalog, a shop-by-mail bookstore — stocking hard-to-find titles covering a wide range of health topics for the general public and matters of interest to disabled persons — has just published its catalog for the 11th year.

The catalog has something for everyone. Besides help for those with vision and hearing impairments, physical and mental limitations and general health problems, each household will find titles of interest.

Founder Helen Hecker, a registered nurse and author of many books for disabled persons, says each book has been carefully reviewed for appropriate content, ease of use, and type size.

The catalog includes books, videos and audios about general medical topics, pain, AIDS, aging, Alzheimer's, amputees, sports, disabled travel, cancer, computers, cooking, autism, disability rights, exercise, education, arthritis, sexuality, employment, arts and crafts, women and men's health and much more.

To receive the catalog, send $4 for postage and handling ($5 if credit card) to: The Disability Bookshop, 204 Garayva Cove, Clinton, MS 39056. For information, call (601) 923-6207.

For the blind, visually impaired, and severely disabled, the catalog is available on two 90-minute audiocassettes for $8.50 postage and handling or $9.50 if by credit card.

Coast Chorus concert

The Coast Chorus will present a concert Sunday, Dec. 1 at 3 p.m. at Trinity Episcopal Church in Pass Christian.

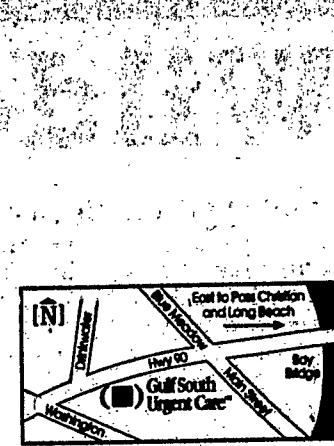

The chorus will be performing many of the pieces they will present in Vienna, Austria during that country's Advent celebration. The Vienna Tourism Commission has requested that the chorus sing music which reflects the history and spirit of the American South.

In response, the Coast Chorus has prepared an exciting repertoire of songs arranged by great American composers such as Norman Luboff, Robert Shaw and Irving Berlin. This unusual concert will include a mixture of musical styles ranging from the traditional Southern sounds of "Dixie" and "Amazing Grace" to the American spirituals "Mary Had a Baby" and "When the Saints Go Marching In."

Combine these with a wonderful array of Christmas carols, some traditional and some with a delightfully modern jazz flavor, and you have that special Southern hospitality which the Coast Chorus will share with the community.

Pass Christian city buildings to be handicapped accessible

BY ED LEPOMA
Pass Christian's Board of Aldermen have agreed to begin construction to make city buildings more accessible to the handicapped.

At a recent recess meeting, aldermen approved Mayor Billy McDonald's plans to begin work first on the annex building, with entrances on Hiern and W. Second streets. Citizens frequent this building the most, since it's where they pay utility bills and traffic fines.

McDonald said a total $40,000 has been set aside in this year's fiscal budget to make city buildings handicapped accessible. He said he met Friday with the city's architect, John Mykolyk, and work is expected to begin within 30 days on the annex building.

He said city labor and materials will be used to construct wheelchair ramps leading to the two offices.

The mayor said City Hall already has a wheelchair ramp at the rear of the building facing the library, but later on, a hand rail will be added. After that, he said the rear door must be enlarged to provide wheelchair access, and bathrooms at City Hall will also have to be made accessible to the handicapped.

In other business, aldermen granted Deputy City Clerk Regina Dailey a 90-day leave of absence to enroll in Air National Guard Training.

They concurred in the mayor's recommendation to appoint his secretary, Valerie Isabelle, and Grace Nicaise as deputy clerks to assist Clerk Vikki Goff during the period.

McDonald said the two would receive no extra compensation for helping Goff.

Before the meeting, the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources presented a check to the mayor for $275,000, representing the city's share of Tidelands monies doled out yearly to areas impacted by gambling casinos.

The money has already been earmarked for continuing improvements underway at the Municipal Harbor.

Aldermen also approved McDonald's recommendation to pay Joseph A. Lusteck and Associates of Jackson $4,515 in out-of-pocket expenses connected with the city's failed attempt to annex Pass Christian Isles and Henderson Point.

In total, Lusteck billed the city $124,643 for its work, and the city has already paid it $55,370.

McDonald said Lusteck has agreed to accept the balance of $64,757 in four annual installments, but may renegotiate the remaining balance.

Students visit retirement center

Trudy Cuevas recently took her multi-age class from North Bay Elementary to visit the residents of Dunbar Village Retirement Center. The class has been involved in a theme unit on "Friends." Students discovered first hand that senior citizens make great friends. Activities included sharing books, poems and songs with each other. The class plans several more visits to the retirement center during this school year.

cluding the Bay High School Chorus, St. Stanislaus Band, and the Bay High School Tiger Pride Band.

Santa arrives at noon and you can have your picture taken with him from noon to 4 p.m.

Throughout the day there will be craft demonstrations and even storytelling and clowns.

Old Town shops will be open from 9 a.m. and there will be special vendor booths for shopping the day away.

Raffles will be held at several of the shops for gifts and gift certificates and Hope Haven is the beneficiary of proceeds from a raffle for a Brett Favre jersey.

End the day at the tree lighting ceremony and caroling beginning at 6:30 p.m. at the Hancock County Courthouse.

On Sunday, it's the Waveland Festival of Lights on Coleman Avenue from 6-8 p.m. beginning with a tree lighting and Santa Claus.

The festival promises entertainment throughout the evening including trolley rides on Christmas Card and Christmas Door Lanes.

Merchants on Coleman Avenue will have open houses and serve refreshments.

To cap off the festivities, and the weekend, Santa Claus will light a Christmas bonfire on the beach.

The North Hancock County Business and Professional Association will hold its annual Christmas Tour For Toys on Sun., Dec. 8, beginning at 1 p.m.

Many residents of the Kiln Community have once again generously agreed to open their beautiful homes for a holiday open house in order to benefit Christmas for the Needy, Billie Faye Lyons, association president said.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's annual Red Ribbon Christmas Parade is scheduled for Tuesday at 6 p.m. on Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis.

'Safe and Sober' enforcement announced

Law enforcement agencies across Mississippi will be participating in a "Campaign Safe & Sober" program aimed at saving lives during the upcoming holidays via increased traffic law enforcement efforts.

The campaign, sponsored by the Governor's Office of Highway Safety, is striving to reduce deaths and injuries on Mississippi roadways by decreasing the involvement of alcoholic beverages in motor vehicle crashes, increasing the use of vehicle safety belts and child protective devices and encouraging motorists to take all other roadway safety steps.

Noting that "this is one of the most dangerous times of the year on Mississippi roadways," Donald O'Carroll, governor's representative for highway safety, said that "law enforcement officers will be watching closely to apprehend traffic law violators. We believe that the increased enforcement efforts will help to prevent many motor vehicle crashes and, if crashes occur, to minimize the loss of life and serious injuries."

Billy Terrell, Governor's Office of Highway Safety director, is reminding motorists that "those who combine drinking alcoholic beverages with driving face still penalties, such as hefty fines and even possible time in jail. Also, Mississippi law requires that all drivers use safety belts and that all front-seat passengers use the belts or child protective devices such as safety seats."

Gazzo identified the victim as Judy O. Miller of 502B, Sunset Drive.

Gazzo said investigating trooper John Perkins reported Miller was driving home from work around 4 a.m. when she apparently fell asleep or lost control, causing the accident. He said the victim was not wearing her seat belt and was thrown from the car. She was pronounced dead at the scene. The 1992 Pontiac was destroyed.

Waveland police confirmed that Miller was the mother of Waveland Police Lt. Frank Miller.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete late Friday, but a benefit is scheduled beginning at 8 p.m. Monday at the Firelog Saloon, 120 S. Beach Blvd. to help defray funeral expenses.

The charge is $10 per couple or $7.50 per person, and all draft beer purchased will go towards helping the family with funeral arrangements. Food and entertainment will be provided.

"CUEVAS' QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

As we move into the holiday season, there always appear to be more accidents on our highways and roadways.

This is one of the reasons our hospitals need a good supply of blood.

An American Red Cross blood drawing will be held from 1 to 7 p.m., Wed. Dec. 4, at the Clement R. Bon Temps American Legion Post No. 139, Green Meadow Road, Bay St. Louis.

In order for this blood drive to be successful there is a need for many volunteers to be donating blood.

John Rutherford, longtime Hancock County blood chairman, is hoping to collect over 100 units of blood on Wednesday.

If you are able and can donate a unit of blood, it will only take a little time, and will be greatly appreciated.

One never knows when a family member will need blood.

I hope to see you at the blood drawing Wednesday.

December begins a time of year when one has to keep up an activity list in order to remember all of the happenings.

This year is no exception, as Christmas-related events begin to happen today.

The annual Christmas tree lighting, sponsored by the North Hancock County Business and Professional Association, is set for 5:30 this evening.

The event will be held at the corner of the Kiln Crossroads. For newcomers, that is where the caution light is located in Kiln at Highway 603.

Billie Lyons, presidents of the association, reports they expect a large attendance this year at the tree lighting.

There will be refreshments, and Santa Claus will be along to visit the youngsters and give out gifts.

Next Sunday, beginning at 1 p.m., the North Hancock County Business and Professional Association will again sponsor the Christmas Tour For Toys in The Kiln.

This event is to help raise funds to purchase toys for several deserving families in the northern part of Hancock County.

I hope to see you in The Kiln this evening.

All youngsters should have several opportunities to give Santa their special requests for Christmas.

The annual Hancock County Red Ribbon Christmas parade is set for 6 p.m. on Tues., Dec. 3.

The parade forms on the north service lane of Highway 90 near the bridge and will travel west on Highway 90 and disband at Drinkwater next to the Hancock County Walking Track.

Some holiday festivities will be held at the walking track following the Christmas parade. Refreshments will be available for purchase with proceeds going to Hope Haven and the Waveland Animal Shelter.

Cindy Vernon, chamber executive director, reports there is a big interest in the parade this year and indicates it should be one of the best this year for the county.

The big annual Diamond Business & Professional Association's Diamondhead Merchants Show is set for Wed., Dec. 4, from 5 to 9 p.m. at the Diamondhead Resort.

This was a very gala affair last year and well attended.

Over 50 business will be displaying their holiday wares, with many exciting door prizes to be given away.

There will also be fashion shows, food and entertainment and a visit from Santa.

I hope to see you in Diamondhead on Wednesday night.

Thursday, Dec. 4, will be the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Business After Hours, sponsored by Adams Loraine Flower Shop, 5 to 7 p.m., 317 Ulman Ave., Bay St. Louis.

So, as you can see, there is something to do four of the first five days of December and there is still a lot more to come in December.

Lott announces fisheries grant for Gulf States Marine Fisheries

Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission in Ocean Springs has been awarded a grant by the U.S. Department of Commerce to continue data collection on fish stocks, U.S. Senator Trent Lott announced.

Lott said the $80,564 grant was made by the department's National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) to conduct scientific studies along the Gulf Coast.

The funds will be used to coordinate meetings of work groups for the Southeast Area Monitoring and Assessment Program (SEAMAP), which is instrumental in the gathering of information on fish stocks and the resources available to them.

Besides allowing workgroups to plan surveys, data collection activities and specimen archiving, the funds will also be used to coordinate preparation and publication of approved SEAMAP documents.

"The fisheries are a very important part of our way of life in Mississippi, and especially on the Gulf Coast," Lott said. "These grants will help provide the scientific information necessary to keep the healthy."

Rainforest

NASA archaeologist Tom Sever, left, along with Daniel Lee, owner of GeoTek, a geographic technology management service located at NASA's John C. Stennis space Center in South Mississippi, trek through the rainforest of the Mayan Biosphere Reserve in Guatemala to research a previously undiscovered Mayan archaeological site.

NASA archaeologist's research unearths Guatemala Mayan site

Tom Sever, a NASA archaeologist at the John C. Stennis Space Center (SSC) and his team of scientists have unearthed a previously undiscovered Mayan ruin in Guatemala after 10 years of research.

Called Lo Veremos, or in English, "We will see it," this site contains pyramids, stone hieroglyphics and numerous other ancient artifacts Sever and his team studied during their deforestation research in Central America. Sever said this site is important because its secrecy has prevented it from being looted and vandalized.

A team of NASA scientists and representatives from the Central American Commission on Environmental Development, Conservation International with the University of Maine and U.S. Aid have jointly studied the effects of deforestation in the area where the site was discovered. The area, called the Mayan Biosphere Reserve, is a 14,000-square-mile rain forest that has been protected under law since 1990. It is the largest rain forest left in Central America.

The research team used remote sensing and Geographic Information Systems (GIS) to collect data of this region to study deforestation, which is a very complex issue, both in scientific and social terms. Rain forests not only serve as filters for carbon dioxide, but they are also the resource center for the DNA of 98 percent of the plants on Earth.

Indigenous people have for years used the land in healthy ways, allowing the forest to replenish itself over time. However, those moving into the protected area believe they have the right to use the land for their benefit, regardless of the consequences. Illegal logging and large agricultural crops, such as corn, rob the soil of its nutrients and kill the area.

Sever said this archaeological site allows scientists to study the area in its natural form.

"Deforestation is synonymous with the protection of archaeology sites. When you destroy the rain forest, you destroy the sites," he said. Sever and his team met with Guatemalan President Alvaro Arzu and Ambassador Donald Planty in July to update them on the past 10 years of research. The date collected illustrates the severity of the encroachment into the reserve over a 10-year period.

A joint press conference was held Nov. 22 to release this same information to the Guatemalan people.

"Our purpose is to show and demonstrate quantifiable data and put it in the hands of the Guatemalan scientists, politicians and managers themselves so they have the tools to make the best decisions possible," Sever said.

The Guatemalan government has welcomed this research data because of the complexity of the deforestation issue. President Arzu assigned the Guatemalan equivalent of the Environmental Protection Agency to review and integrate all of the data to develop the best protection and management plan for the Mayan Biosphere Reserve.

Daniel Lee, owner of GeoTek, a geographic technology management service located at SSC, accompanied Sever on the trip to record Global Positioning System data. He has also conducted training for the local Guatemalan people to use remote sensing and GIS to conduct their own research.

"By activities such as this, which demonstrate reliable, repeatable market economies, the people of Guatemala are able to protect the trees and archaeology sites for their major industry — tourism," Sever said.

"Guatemala is one of the last places where we can see major archaeological sites beneath the canopy of the rain forest while birds and monkeys dance in the trees," Sever said.

Sever also gave an example of positive cooperation where not only do you have data that local people can use, but the same data factors into global change and understanding of the carbon cycle of the entire planet," he said.

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

A Weekly Editorial
From Mississippi Economic Council

Ethics training moves to class

Ethics? It's something that seems to be lacking in modern America.

There are daily reminders of ethics abuse in today's society. A glance at any newspaper or TV broadcast will give you graphic and glaring examples, including abuses by highly visible citizens and some public officials. It is no wonder that our children need ethics instruction.

A Mississippi Economic Council survey of school teachers last year showed 90 percent citing the need for ethics instruction. The same percentage approved a plan for MEC, the state's largest business association, to provide the instructional materials.

Columbus businessman William E. "Bill" McClure believed in the project so strongly he provided financing for development of the course.

"For so many of our children, the only instruction they will receive is from the school," McClure said.

School teachers encouraged that the course be written for young students who are beginning to form individual values. So, that's what the MEC is doing.

A group of experienced classroom teachers and college professors working with MEC are nearing completion of the lesson plans and materials that will be made available to every middle and junior high school in Mississippi. The course is designed to be used in conjunction with core subjects, such as English, science and social studies. It will be available for grades six, seven and eight.

Although it's designed for children, it wouldn't hurt for some adults to take a refresher course.

Gov. Kirk Fordice has proclaimed December as Drunk and Drugged Driving Prevention Month in Mississippi and Dec. 20 as "Light on for Life," a one-day motor-vehicle headlight observance in remembrance of persons killed or injured in alcohol-related crashes and reminder of the dangers of drunk and drugged driving.

Fordice said that "in 1995 more than 41,000 Americans were killed in motor vehicle crashes; and, of these deaths, approximately 17,274 involved alcohol."

Of these killed in Mississippi traffic deaths, the Governor's Office of Highway Safety (GOHS) estimates that more than 350 were alcohol-impaired. With this in mind, GOHS is continuing a "Campaign Safe & Sober" aimed at reducing deaths and injuries on Mississippi roadways by decreasing the involvement of alcoholic beverages in motor vehicle crashes and increasing the use of vehicle safety belts and child protective devices.

The governor indicated that "studies have shown that the country's most at-risk group for driving-impaired are young adult male drivers aged 21-34 and that particular attention must be paid to reaching this age group."

Fordice called upon "all citizens, government agencies, public and private institutions, businesses, hospitals and churches in Mississippi to observe this month with appropriate ceremonies and all motorists to drive with their vehicle lights on throughout the month."

Noting that motorists who have not been drinking could encounter a drunk driver on the roadway, he said that "two of the best protections you have if you're in a crash caused by a driver is to have your seat belt on."

"Also, I urge all motorists who see a suspected drunk driver to report this immediately to the nearest law enforcement agency," O'Carroll said. "This could be a favor for both the impaired driver and other motorists."

With a public hearing scheduled for Dec. 10, O'Carroll said he will be holding a public hearing on the matter.

Sever also gave an example of positive cooperation where not only do you have data that local people can use, but the same data factors into global change and understanding of the carbon cycle of the entire planet," he said.

Public Safety Commissioner Jim Ingram noted that "just a few drinks can turn even a usually safe driver into a roadway killer. It's important not to consume alcoholic beverages or other mind-altering drugs before operating a motor vehicle. It's equally important to never ride with a driver who has been drinking and never permit a relative or friend to drive after the individual has been drinking."

Donald O'Carroll, governor's representative for highway safety, noted "it may be difficult to stop a person from driving after he or she has been drinking, but you could be saving this person's life or the lives of other motorists. You also could be preventing this individual from being seriously injured, injuring others, serving time in jail, paying a hefty fine and having his or her motor vehicle insurance premiums rise."

"If a holiday party involves alcoholic beverages," O'Carroll said, "it's extremely important to designate one or more persons, who will not be drinking at the party, to drive others home."

"If a holiday party involves alcoholic beverages," O'Carroll said, "it's extremely important to designate one or more persons, who will not be drinking at the party, to drive others home."

Noting that motorists who have not been drinking could encounter a drunk driver on the roadway, he said that "two of the best protections you have if you're in a crash caused by a driver is to have your seat belt on."

"Also, I urge all motorists who see a suspected drunk driver to report this immediately to the nearest law enforcement agency," O'Carroll said. "This could be a favor for both the impaired driver and other motorists."

With a public hearing scheduled for Dec. 10, O'Carroll said he will be holding a public hearing on the matter.

beauty of the Bay and conserve its natural resources for future generations. My group is a property owners group. Any casino development will affect where we live."

Although DeBardleben lives in Harrison County, she feels, "It wasn't fair of Mr. Harvey to charge that Hancock County's supervisors and businessmen are anti-gaming and anti-business."

Although four of five Hancock County supervisors have endorsed the proposed Casino World project planned off the Diamondhead exit, DeBardleben said she feels county leaders and businessmen are showing signs that they are trying to diversify the economy.

She pointed out that Hancock County successfully lured Wellman to build a multi-million dollar plastics/fiber manufacturing plant at Port Bienville, and a Tourism Bureau has been formed to bring in more visitors to Hancock County.

DeBardleben said she strongly believes Harvey overstepped his boundaries and authority by stating an opinion one way or the other.

"Mr. Harvey was appointed by the Governor to oversee the Board that regulates gambling in this state," said DeBardleben. "His job is not economic development. His job is to regulate the casino industry. Each county has its own board or commission that goes out and solicits industry."

She attacks the Commission on Marine Resources in the same breath, noting that when Commissioners gave initial approval of Casino World near Diamondhead and the Circus DeLisle exit of Interstate 10 over staff objections, their reasoning was "the economic benefits far outweighed concerns over the environment."

"Those Commissioners were appointed for the sole purpose of protecting the marine environment and our coastal resources," said DeBardleben. "The economic impact of any casino development shouldn't have anything to do with their decision."

DeBardleben is armed with studies and opinions from the Secretary of State's Office and from a University of Mississippi team that studied current laws and policies governing casino development in Mississippi.

She points out in April of 1996, Prof. Richard McLaughlin, Director of the Mississippi Alabama Sea Grant Legal Program, completed a study of laws governing casino development, and concluded state agencies involved in the permitting process were acting in violation of current laws.

"The Legislature created a one-step application process," DeBardleben explained. "This requires the applicant to present to the two agencies (the Gaming Commission and CMR) enough information at one time so that a decision can be made (by both) on site location, the cost of the project, the construction schedule, permits or feasibility studies that would be required, and public hearings that would be needed."

McLaughlin, working in association with Michael R. Hess, reported to the DMR that the Gaming Commission and DMR "are currently not following the state's one-stop permitting requirement."

"The failure of the two agencies to coordinate their procedures has resulted in state policy not being carried out in a consistent manner and excessive duplication of paper work in applications," said McLaughlin.

He warned, "The language of the act is not discretionary or arbitrary," and advised both agencies "should consider implementing the procedures."

McLaughlin said on several occasions, the Gaming Commission has granted licenses contingent on permit approval by the CMR.

"Because preliminary approval has been granted by one state agency, the Marine Commission is placed in the very difficult position of having to countermand a fellow agency's decision. Moreover, political momentum increases whenever one agency preliminarily approves a project thereby subjecting the latter agency to substantially increased levels of political pressure to conform to the earlier ruling. This kind of piecemeal decision-making is precisely what the one-step permitting procedure is intended to cure," McLaughlin said.

DeBardleben said, "Mr. Harvey should turn his full attention to fine-tuning the regulations we now have and making sure applicants conform to the statutes."

"In some cases, he seems to be putting the horse before the cart by touting the economic impact of a development. If someone wants to build a casino, let him probe further into that developer's finances in order to check on the viability of a project."

She mentioned what she called "the mess" left by the Jubilation, when it closed down in Bayou Caddy.

"Mr. Harvey said the Commission doesn't have police enforcement authority, but why can't it make a developer post a performance bond. That would cover for the cleanup that might be needed in the event they leave or make them pay for returning the land to its former state when they leave," said DeBardleben.

She firmly believes the failure of both agencies to coordinate applications has led to inconsistent policy and confusion regarding approvals for casino siting.

As an example, DeBardleben produced a letter from Secretary of State Eric Clark giving his views on several proposed casino developments.

On the Casino World application, Clark said it appeared the applicant presented inconsistent information to the Gaming Commission and CMR.

"Apparently, the Gaming Commission granted site approval based partly upon the casino's representation that the barge would draw six feet of water as required by law. A subsequent study by the Office of Geology found the depth of the Bay too shallow to allow a six-foot draft without dredging. If the applicant dredges to comply with Gaming law, it would seem to me to violate its DMR permit," said Clark. He told DeBardleben he would seek an opinion from the state attorney general's office.

Clark said he also visited the site of the Circus Circus development planned off the Kiln-DeLisle exit (in Harrison County), read comments from the DMR's public hearing on the project and was aware of concerns of the project, as well as the economic benefits it might provide.

He told DeBardleben, although the site is being challenged in court, if applicants are successful, he would issue them a Tideland lease.

DeBardleben said the developers have promised to provide a sewerage treatment plant and told residents they could hook up to it.

"But, nobody told these poor people what it might cost for them to hook up and to purchase the necessary grinder. And, do they know, they would get a monthly sewerage and water bill once they hook up?"

DeBardleben said attorneys representing citizens during public hearings could not get assurances from the developer that they would pay the cost of linking citizens to the sewerage system.

Both projects are being challenged in Chancery Court suits by most of the same groups that DeBardleben represents, and she said she was surprised by Harvey's comments that the court's shouldn't ultimately decide on casino sites.

"Who is he to say that citizens don't have the right to appeal to the courts? Doesn't every citizen have the right to due process?"

DeBardleben said the court challenges are, "Our intent to get the Gaming Commission and the DMR to jump through the proper hoops and follow the rules and regulations set out in the state laws."

"If I want to build a bulkhead on my property, I have to follow the regulations, and get the proper approvals," she said. She pointed out that her association joined with other groups challenging the DMR's rezoning of South Beach Boulevard property near Bayou Caddy.

"The DMR changed the zoning of the property without a public hearing or without justifying its reasons for doing so in writing. We later weren't allowed to speak when we petitioned the CMR to reconsider. We contended (in the suit) we were denied due process," said DeBardleben.

Apparently Chancery Court Judge Thomas Teel agreed. On Nov. 21, Teel reversed the re-zoning, sending the petition back to the DMR.

DeBardleben also disagrees with Harvey's statement that an often-called-for Environmental Impact Study is "a political ploy often used by anti-gaming forces." Harvey called instead for an environmental assessment study financed partly by the Commission and the gambling industry.

"Who is he kidding? Does anyone think a study partly financed by the industry can be unbiased," DeBardleben counters.

She contends an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) prepared by federal and state agencies and financed independently would be more objective.

"We've had gambling for some time now, and the barges have been in the water. No one has ever studied the cumulative effects of the situation," said DeBardleben.

On the developments proposed for the Bay of St. Louis, she said, "An EIS would tell us how much development the Bay could sustain without permanent damage. I would be willing to accept the findings by an unbiased group," she said.

due to drainage overflowing the road and seawall."

He said places where repeated erosion occurs from drainage crossing the road are places where culverts or natural channels should be left. Planting a range of grasses will help fix the locations and width of such natural channels and retard erosion, Egloff claimed.

"These two procedures alone would save tens of thousands of dollars, hundreds of manhours and release equipment for roadwork they are better suited for," said Egloff. "Why pay to waste the sand?"

The claims caught supervisors by surprise, and District 4 Supervisor Steve Seymour verbalized the board's frustration.

"It seems we're fighting a losing battle," said Seymour. "One one hand, we're reacting to the people who complain the beach looks slimy (where water collects in puddles). Now, you're telling us, our efforts to make it (the beach) look better is contributing to the loss of sand."

Road Supervisor Dewey Bobinger also seemed puzzled, since he takes his directions from supervisors, and assigns work crews to the beach.

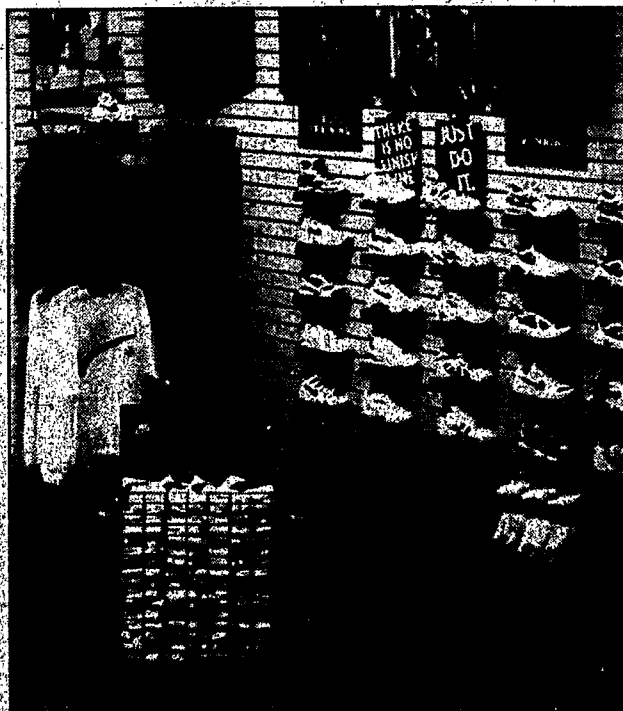

"I need to know exactly what you want me to do," said Bobinger.

Supervisors asked John Seafide, who leads the old Sand Beach Committee, to come up with some kind of "concrete" recommendations by the board's January meeting. They also said they wanted to meet more regularly with members of the committee.

Venturi says

About the Tampa Bay game—"This was a tough game. A lot of guys battled their asses off out there. The thing that you can't do, though, you can't win scoring seven points and having all the turnovers. It really comes down to that."

On results derived from effort—"So much of this team is improving and playing hard, but the one area we've got to pick up its points scored. It's just a shame that we're battling so hard and have nothing to show for it."

On criticism from the media—"I tell the players you've got to get out of that world. You can't read it, and you can't listen to it. My wife always knows when I'm in trouble because it's National Public Radio on my radio."

Saints-Rams Series Notes

The Saints are a combined 64-100-2 against the NFC West, including a 35-32 mark since 1986. New Orleans has dropped their first five divisional games of 1996 and has lost six straight dating back to last season.

In four games against his old team, QB Jim Everett has completed 71 of 115 (61.7%) for 803 yards with three touchdowns and two interceptions.

WR Michael Haynes has caught 49 passes for 762 yards and six touchdowns in 15 career outings against the Rams.

In a 37-6 win over the Rams, Oct. 3, 1993 at Anaheim Stadium, KR/PR/CB Tyrone Hughes brought back a punt 74 yards for a touchdown, the first of five now in his NFL career. In five career outings facing the Rams, Hughes has returned 14 kickoffs for a 30.8-yard average and two touchdowns. He has fielded 13 points for a 16.2-yard norm and a score.

In four career games versus the Rams, RB Mario Bates has rushed for 298 yards and three touchdowns on 65 attempts. All three scores came in the same game, Dec. 4, 1994 at Anaheim Stadium, a 31-15 Saints win when Bates rushed for 96 yards on 25 carries. All three touchdowns were scored in the first half before Bates left the game with a shoulder injury.

DT Wayne Martin has registered a sack in three of his last four games against the Rams, during which time he has totaled four, including two in his most recent outing, Nov. 5 of last year at the Superdome.

THE LAST TIME: In his first game in a Saints uniform, kicker Doug Brien turned out to be the hero as the Saints won their second straight game, 19-10 over the Rams, Nov. 5 at the Superdome. The Rams took a 7-0 first quarter lead on a 55-yard TD pass from Chris Miller to Isaac Bruce on the game's opening series. The Saints tied the game 2-48 into the second period on a Ray Zellers 1-yard scoring run, and went ahead on Brien's 35-yard field goal with 3:51 remaining in the first half. Brien added a 26-yard field goal on the Saints' initial possession of the second half, before Dean Biasucci brought the Rams back to within three points on a 32-yard field goal, seven plays after St. Louis recovered a fumble at the Saints' 25.

Brien tacked on two fourth quarter field goals, from 47 and 42 yards out. The final one came with 3:18 left, four plays after Brian Jones recovered a fumble on a kickoff. Brien was named NFC Special Teams Player-of-the-Week for his effort.

The Saints amassed 321 yards of total offense and held St. Louis to 224. New Orleans also registered 24 first downs and held the Rams to just 12. The Saints rushed for 153 yards, including 106 by Mario Bates (22 atts.) and 50 by Ray Zellers (166 atts.). The Saints controlled the clock for 38:06.

WADE-ING IT OUT: Exactly 11 years ago to the day this Sunday, Dec. 1, 1985, marked the first NFL game as a head coach for Wade Phillips, after he had taken over from his father, Bum, who had just resigned that week.

The 4-8 New Orleans Saints were hosting a Los Angeles Rams team at the Superdome that was 9-3, and would ultimately capture the NFC West title and play for the NFC championship.

This day belonged to the Saints, however, who held the Rams to just 164 yards of total offense en route to a 29-3 victory over Los Angeles.

New Orleans scored just one offensive touchdown, a 43-yard pass from Bobby Hebert to Eric Martin, but Morten Andersen connected on all five field goal attempts and Jack Del Rio returned a fumble 22 yards for a touchdown. The Saints' defense forced four turnovers, including three fumbles, and sacked Rams quarterbacks nine times, a club record.

Rickey Jackson and Frank Warren registered two sacks apiece, while Del Rio recovered two Los Angeles fumbles.

CLOSE CALLS IN THE DOME: Saints-Rams games played in the Superdome have historically provided fans with some of the closest battles waged in this series.

Overlooked cover or brush often produces results

Professional bass tournament angler Randy Dearman likes to remember a fishing trip to Louisiana's vast Atchafalaya Basin where, from a two-foot wide ditch, he caught and released 110 bass in two days. "It was just a tiny little place with running water that for some reason had attracted a lot of crawfish that in turn attracted a lot of bass," Dearman says. "All the other fishermen in that particular tournament had probably ridden right by the spot several times but no one ever stopped until I did."

Therein lies one of Dearman's secrets to success. "I look for subtle places underwater that are hard to find. The smaller it is and the harder it is to find, the more likely it will be in production."

tournament competition. He looks for cover and structure other bass fishermen overlook.

"Today, if you concentrate in the obvious places such as main lake points, islands, or the mouths of creeks, you can be certain they've already been fished hard," explains Dearman. "Fishing pressure on our lakes is so much greater now than even just five years ago that I rarely, if ever, fish visible targets."

"I look for subtle places underwater that are hard to find. The smaller it is and the harder it is to find, the more likely it will be in production."

Of the 10 games between these teams decided at the Superdome from 1986-95, seven have been won by seven points or less. The margin in six of those has been a field goal or less. Only twice during this 10-game period has a team come away with a double-digit victory.

One of those occurred in a Saints 37-10 replacement game victory, Oct. 4, 1987. Since the Superdome opened in 1975, 13 of the 20 contests played between these clubs have been won by seven points or less.

RECORD DAYS: On Nov. 8, 1981 at Anaheim Stadium, the Saints defeated the Rams 21-13, and accumulated a club-record 307 yards rushing (52 atts.).

In a 24-13 loss to the Rams, Nov. 25, 1973 at Tulane Stadium, the Rams produced 340 yards rushing (55 atts.), the most-ever against New Orleans.

The Saints gained 150 yards on the ground in that contest, for a Saints two-term record 490 yards.

In a 29-3 victory over the Rams, Dec. 1, 1985 at the Superdome, the Saints sacked Rams QBs nine times, the most-ever by New Orleans. The Rams have sacked Saints quarterbacks nine times on two occasions (10/24/76 at Superdome, 11/3/85 at Anaheim Stadium), tied for the most-ever versus the Saints.

When the Saints defeated the Rams, 6-0, Nov. 9, 1986 at the Superdome, it marked a Saints two-team record for fewest points scored. It's also one of only two games in Saints history that New Orleans has won without scoring a touchdown, and one of two contests in franchise history in which a touchdown has not been scored by either team.

In a Nov. 12, 1989 game against the Rams at the Superdome, Rams WR Flipper Anderson caught 15 passes for an NFL-record 336 yards, in a Rams 20-17 overtime victory.

In that game, current Saints QB Jim Everett, then with Los Angeles, passed for 454 yards, the most-ever against the Saints.

In a 24-7 win over the Rams, Sept. 15, 1991 at the Superdome, the Saints held the Rams to just six first downs, tied for the fewest ever by an opponent. In that game, the Rams amassed only 120 net yards, the second-fewest ever by an opponent.

In a 37-34 win over the Rams, Oct. 23, 1994 at the Superdome, KR/PR Tyrone Hughes set or tied four NFL records and seven team marks when he returned seven kickoffs for 304 yards, including returns of 98 and 92 yards for touchdowns. He totaled 347 combined return yards (43 punt), an NFL standard.

His 304 kickoff return yards are an NFL mark, while his two kickoff returns for TDs and his two total returns for TDs tied an NFL record. Also in that game, the Rams' Robert Bailey returned a punt 103 yards for a TD, the longest in NFL history. In addition, Toby Wright returned a fumble 98 yards for a score, the longest ever versus New Orleans, and the fourth-longest in league history.

TURNOVERS TELL NO LIES: In the last 12 games played in

Lady Wildcats win classic

Pearl River Community College's Lady Wildcats won their second game in as many days in Poplarville Tuesday, defeating the Holmes Lady Bulldogs (5-5) 67-60 in final-round action of the Lady Wildcat Classic in M. R. White Coliseum.

PRCC, now 2-5 on the season, picked up its first win of the 1996-97 season Monday in the classic with a 65-45 domination of Mississippi Delta.

In Addition, Mississippi Gulf Coast dropped Holmes 70-53 on Monday, then sped past Mississippi Delta 86-67 in Tuesday's first game.

On Tuesday, PRCC led 31-24 at the half and coasted to the seven-point victory despite Holmes' deadlocking the goings-on at 48-48 with 6:02 left in the game.

Carla James paced Pearl River with 20 points and 9 rebounds, while Punkin Byrd scored 15 (7 rebounds). Leigh Slocum scored 14, including four three-pointers; April Wilson 8 (9 rebounds); Collette Sibley 6 (8 assists); and Missy Wheat 4.

Kellie Milner led Holmes with a game-high 21-point effort, while Elizabeth Mosby had 15.

From the foul line, Pearl River was 13 or 22 (59 percent), while Holmes was 26 of 31 (84 percent). The Lady Bulldogs sank 10 of 14 free throws in the first half.

Pearl River travels to East Central in Decatur Tuesday with a 6 p.m. tip-off (women), immediately followed by men's action. Both PRCC units open South Division play when they return home on Thursday, Dec. 5 to host rival Gulf Coast (6 p.m.).

this series, the Saints have committed a total of 18 turnovers. Only five times during this span have they had more than one turnover. During his 12-game stretch, the Saints have forced a total of 31 Rams turnovers, for a composite takeaway/giveaway mark of plus-13. Of these 12 games, the Saints have held in the advantage in the takeaway/giveaway ratio seven times, while the Rams have won this battle on four occasions. Two of the four times the Rams held the edge resulted in their only two victories against the Saints in the last 12 meetings.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

Submitted by Craig Foster
Edward Jones Co.

Social Security helps with retirement and a lot more

Most working people pay 7.65% of their wages into a trust fund that they don't believe will ever pay them back.

According to a recent study sponsored by Third Millennium, a non-profit organization of young Americans, only 9 percent of Americans between the ages of 18 and 34 believe Social Security will be able to provide them with retirement benefits. What's more, about two out of three believe the Social Security program won't even exist by the time they retire.

Despite this growing pessimism, Social Security today affects almost every American. Employees pay FICA taxes, and employers match those taxes. These taxes pay for a variety of services for many people — not just retirement benefits.

Here's a breakdown of Social Security benefits.

Retirement. At age 62, Americans become eligible to receive monthly Social Security retirement benefits. The amount received is based on a variety of factors, including years in the work force and the amount of FICA taxes paid during those working years.

During your working years, the Social Security administration credits your earnings to an account in your name. To make sure the figures are correct, check your account at least every three years. Go to your local Social Security office for a copy of the form "Request for Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement." Complete and mail it, and you'll receive a personalized statement of the earnings credited to your account. If you're under age 65, you'll also receive an estimate of the benefits you can expect to collect. If you find the information in error or you want more detailed information, contact your local Social Security office.

Disability insurance. This is particularly important to families during the working years. The Social Security disability benefit assures you regular income if you're unable to work because of illness or disability. The disability, of course, must be permanent or expected to last over a prolonged period.

Survivors' insurance. This is life insurance protection. If a Social Security recipient dies, this insurance may provide payments to survivors.

Medicare. This provides hospital and medical insurance to people age 65 and over. With the growing costs of private insurance, most older Americans have come to depend on Medicare. Medicare benefits also are available to some people under 65 if they have been receiving disability benefits for a specified period or meet other conditions.

Much discussion on Social Security reform focuses only on retirement. In the above-mentioned study, 82 percent of the survey respondents said they could achieve a higher rate of return by saving on their own. Seniors however, tended to disagree. Looking back, only 28 percent said they could have done better.

If the Social Security retirement program was dismantled, how would the other benefits be funded? Although the survey offered no specific recommendations, the most popular idea among both young adults and seniors was to base benefits on need, regardless of how much an individual pays into the system. Another popular suggestion, favored by almost half of the seniors, was for the wealthy and upper middle class to pay income tax on 100 percent of the Social Security benefits they receive.

No doubt, there are a number of problems with Social Security — and at least as many possible solutions. But rather than throwing the baby out with the bath water, the entire Social Security system, along with all of its benefits, should be evaluated.

Airport announces plans

Gulfport, Biloxi Regional Airport Authority has completed consultation with airlines, unanimously approving the Phase I expansion plan to construct Concourse A, a boarding gate, install jet bridges, new ticket counters, ground level secure access, waiting area and automobile parking.

A Coast Bank construction loan funds for construction, and the existing $3 passenger facility charge will be used to retire the debt in four years.

Airport director Bruce Fralich said, "As soon as Phase I is completed in November, 1997, we will start construction of Phase II."

Airport officials explained that the second phase will expand baggage claim, ground level secure access, construct Concourse B, add a jet bridge, a boarding gate and more parking.

Hancock County RECYCLING

"The Best Recycling Program On The Coast"

Waveland Now Has Curbside Recycling

HOW TO PARTICIPATE IN THE CURBSIDE RECYCLING PROGRAM ...

[1] Between collection days, store your mixed glass, cans and plastic in the recycling bin provided free of charge by the Hancock County Solid Waste District.

GLASS BOTTLES AND JARS: Please recycle clear, green and brown bottles and jars only. They must be rinsed and unbroken. Please do not recycle pesticide or other household chemical containers. We also cannot take window glass, Pyrex or drinking glasses.

PLASTIC BOTTLES: Please recycle plastic bottles used for soft drinks, juices and other beverages, milk, and other common household liquids such as laundry detergent. Acceptable plastic bottles will have a recycling symbol on the bottom surrounding the numbers 1 or 2. Below the recycling symbol you will either see the letters PETE or HDPE. Please remove any lids, rinse and flatten if at all possible. As with glass, do not recycle plastic bottles that contained pesticides, oil or other hazardous chemicals.

CANS: Please recycle aluminum and steel cans used for foods or beverages. Rinse beverage cans and wash food cans. You may flatten cans to save space but do not nest aluminum and steel cans together. Please do not recycle paint or aerosol cans.

[2] Store your newspapers separated from the mixed containers. When you set your recycling container out at the street, place the newspapers on top.

NEWSPAPER: Please keep your newspapers clean and as dry as possible. Do not bundle newspapers. Use the elastic cords and hook attached to your recycling bin to secure them. Please do not recycle newspaper that is contaminated with food or paint or that is soaking wet.

[3] Store your MIXED PAPER separately in paper bags. On your collection day, place the bag(s) of mixed paper on top of the newspapers in your recycling bin and secure the bags and newspapers with the attached cords and hooks.

MIXED PAPER includes magazines and catalogs; writing paper, junk mail and envelopes; cereal, tissue and shoe boxes; office and school paper; telephone books and paper bags. Please remember, mixed paper must be dry and free of food, waxed or carbon paper, foil, plastic or metal. Open and inspect all junk mail for contaminants before you recycle it.

[4] If rain is predicted for your collection day, cover the papers with a plastic trash bag before you connect the elastic cords. This will help keep the papers dry. We will leave the plastic bag in the recycling bin for you to use again.

[5] Place your recycling bin as close to the road as possible without obstructing traffic or pedestrians. If your bin is partially hidden by a bush, tree or fence, our driver may not be able to see it. We will not jump over drainage ditches to get a recycling container. We will leave your empty recycling bin in the same place where you set it out unless there is a problem with the location you chose. If we leave it in a different location, we are recommending it as a better alternative.

[6] Please put your recycling container out for collection by 7:30 AM on your collection day.

Waveland Collection Days

TUESDAY:
WEDNESDAY:
THURSDAY:
FRIDAY:

North of Hwy. 90 and West of Waveland Ave.
Between Nicholson Ave. and St. Joseph St.
East of Nicholson Ave.
Between St. Joseph St. and Waveland Ave.

Household Recycling Containers

The Hancock County Solid Waste District is providing a free recycling container for households in Waveland that want to participate in the curbside recycling program. Simply call 467-9268 and a container will be delivered to your home. Until your container is delivered you may use a box to set your recyclables at the street on your collection day.

New Drop-Off Recycling Centers

There are now three Drop-Off Recycling Centers to serve all residents of Hancock County. Each has separate bins for all the materials listed above except for mixed paper.

STENNIS SOUTH GATE

Open 24 hours, seven days per week.

"NORTH BARN" ROAD MAINTENANCE CENTER

7:00 AM to 3:30 PM, Monday through Friday.

STANDARD LANDFILL

7:00 AM to 5:00 PM, Monday through Friday.

7:00 AM to 12:00 Noon Saturday.

This recycling program is administered by the Hancock County Solid Waste District.
Collections are provided by Mississippi ResorSys.

Our commitment is to provide you with the best possible recycling program.

BUSINESS NEWS

THE SEA COAST ECHO—SUNDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1996-2A

Hancock Bank expands Popps Ferry office

Hancock Bank Popps Ferry Office at 2369 Pass Road, Biloxi, is celebrating the completion of their latest expansion of 1,800 square feet to their building.

The newly remodeled office expands Hancock's services to our current as well as new customers with three new offices and full-time loan officers and several more amenities.

Growth is seen with the rebuilding of Pass Road, the addition of several new subdivisions and apartments in the area, the expansion of the Coast Coliseum, and the opening of Stein Mart Department Store and other retail businesses on Pass Road in Biloxi.

Loan officer and branch manager Jimmy Estes commented, "We are encouraged by the growth that we see and have invested to expand with the area in order to meet the needs of our customers."

Refreshments will be served and door prizes awarded during the office's Customer Appreciation Day on Wednesday, Dec. 4 from 4:30-6:30 p.m. The public is invited to visit the office and join in the celebration.

Hancock Bank is a subsidiary of Hancock Holding Company with $2.5 billion in assets. It is the largest financial institution in South Mississippi and is listed by Veribanc Inc. as one of the strongest, safest banks in the United States.

MMS announces oil spill contingency planning

The U.S. Department of the Interior's Minerals Management Service (MMS) announced cooperative agreements totaling $885,720 with Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi to create an authoritative geographic database for oil spill contingency planning.

Each state will contribute funds according to the agreement. Agreements will also be signed later this year with Florida and Alabama.

Working cooperatively with MMS, the five states will combine state environmental and geographic data with federal information to produce a comprehensive data base for the entire Gulf of Mexico. The data base will be used by industry, state and federal agencies in oil spill contingency planning. Louisiana State University will create the database from the consolidated information forming the Gulf Wide Information System. This portion of the project is being conducted under the Coastal Marine Institute (CMI) cooperative agreement with LSU.

"These agreements are perfect examples of how MMS continues to work cooperatively with state and local governments," said MMS director Cynthia Quarterman. "The federal-state collaboration and funding are especially important in projects such as this one since we all share a concern for safeguarding the environment of the Gulf of Mexico. With the combined expertise of the five states bordering the Gulf of Mexico and that of the federal government, the data base will be of great use to all parties in oil spill contingency planning and environmental and oceanographic studies."

The database is scheduled for completion by May 1998.

MMS is the federal agency that manages the nation's natural gas, oil and other mineral resources on the OCS, and collects, accounts for and disburses about $4 billion yearly in revenues from federal offshore leases and federal and Indian onshore mineral leases.

Home shopping offers advantages, challenges

Television home shopping networks make merchandise ordering as easy as picking up a remote control or making a phone call. But what if you have problems after delivery?

A Mississippi State University consumer specialist advises doing some homework about the company and knowing your rights before you order. Family economist and management specialist Beverly Howell says, the convenience of home-shopping requires some consumer responsibilities.

These include: Scrutinizing the catalog or television network that offers the item. To make sure the company is well established, check with the Better Business Bureau.

Reading the item description carefully to make sure the size is correct. For further help, sizing information usually is provided in the company's catalog. With non-clothing items, look for the product dimensions.

Writing the creditor in the event of a billing error. It's your responsibility to notify the creditor within 60 days of the time you receive a statement containing the error. By law, the creditor must acknowledge your claim within 30 days and your complaint has to be resolved within two billing cycles. During this time you are not required to pay for the item in dispute.

Maintaining good shopping records. The more information you have, the better the chance that you can resolve a billing problem.

Howell says the Federal Trade Commission protects the rights of shoppers who order by mail. The order must be shipped within a company-specified time or within 90 days if a date is not given. The FTC requires company notification if a shipping problem arises.

The suggested check list before you go:

1. Tell someone where you're going, who's with you, and when you'll be back. Include a distinct description of your vessel.
2. Have and know how to use a marine VHF radio with channels 16, 22 & 23. Listen to weather radio before and during the trip.
3. Make sure someone else knows how to operate both the VHF and your boat. Jerry Eubanks, park superintendent recalled, "Last year we had a person having heart problems on Horn Island. He was the only person on the boat who knew how to start the engine and operate the boat."
4. Have a wearable Personal Floatation Device for everyone on board. Know Mississippi State Law concerning children's age requirements for wearing "PFD's." If in doubt, wear it.

5. Have more than one type of signaling device. Wave something besides your hands when trying to attract attention.

6. Be prepared to call a friend or to use a commercial towing service. Rangers will not tow disabled vessels back to the mainland.

Campers for Horn and Petit Bois Islands are reminded that there are no amenities, shelters or sources of drinking water provided. Campers must provide all supplies needed. Include extra food and water should you have to stay longer because of weather.

Mosquitoes, gnats and deerflies are on the islands, so insect repellent and mosquito netting are recommended.

Island visitors need to bring at least two gallons of water per day per person in party camping.

Fires are to be built only on the beach below the extreme high tide line.

A 20-foot or longer craft is recommended for use on the open water. Inland watercraft, such as bass boats and pontoon party barges are not suitable for travel to the islands.

Horn Island's is just over 36,000 acres, making it the largest island within Gulf Islands National Seashore's Mississippi district.

The island was probably formed sometime after the ice age from sands generated by erosion of the Appalachian mountains and carried seaward to the Gulf.

Island visitors should not disturb sea turtles, turtle nests, nesting seabirds or marine mammals, such as dolphins.

Hunting is not allowed and firearms are prohibited.

For non-boat owners, the National Park Service has a list of charter boats. These crafts are inspected by the National Park Service for liability insurance and safety equipment.

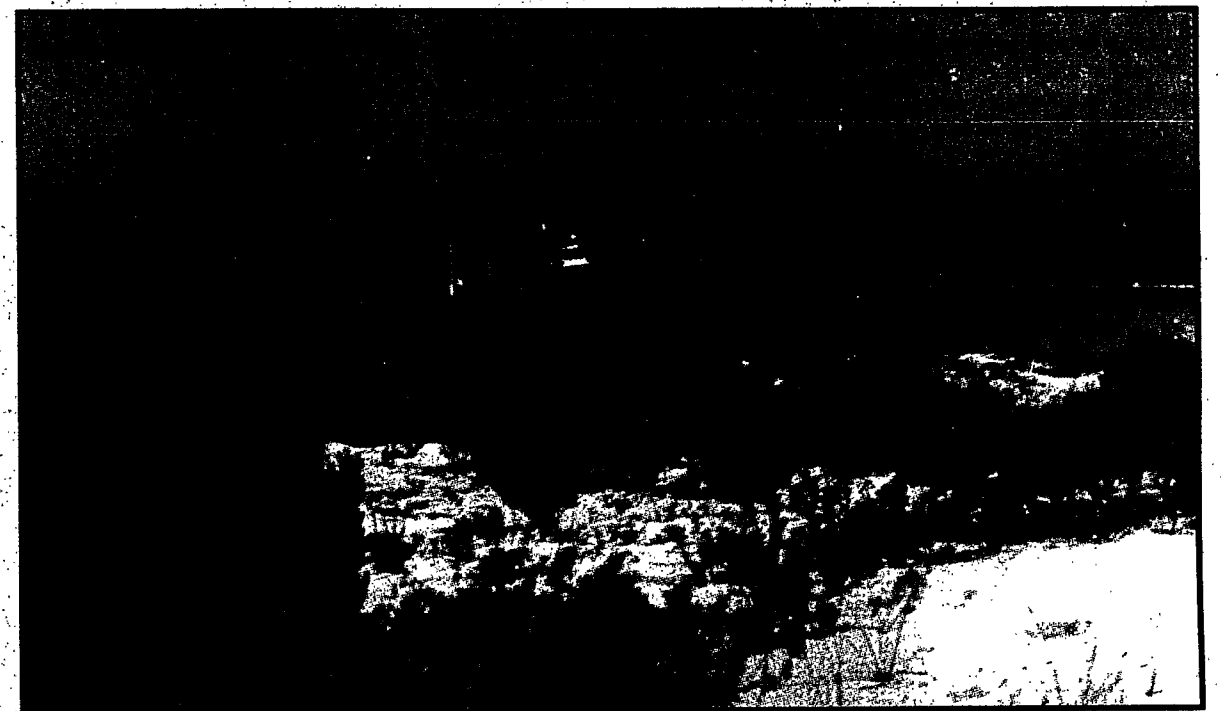

The Ocean Springs Visitors Center is open daily now from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. National Park signs are on Highway 90 in Ocean Springs giving directions to the visitor's center.

For further information on the visitor center's activities and about the islands, call 601-875-9057.

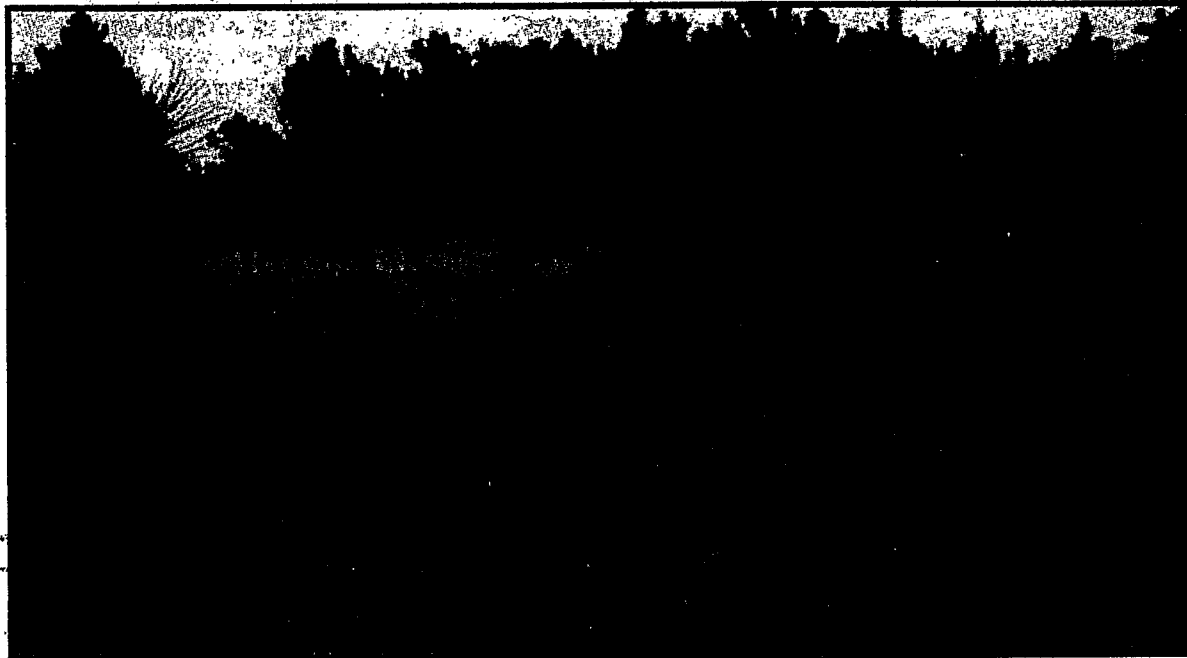

Sea oats

The plant community of Horn Island is more diverse than on other barrier islands within Gulf Island's Mississippi district. Sea oats on the Gulf of Mexico side of the island are among the more than 260 species of vascular plants located on the island.

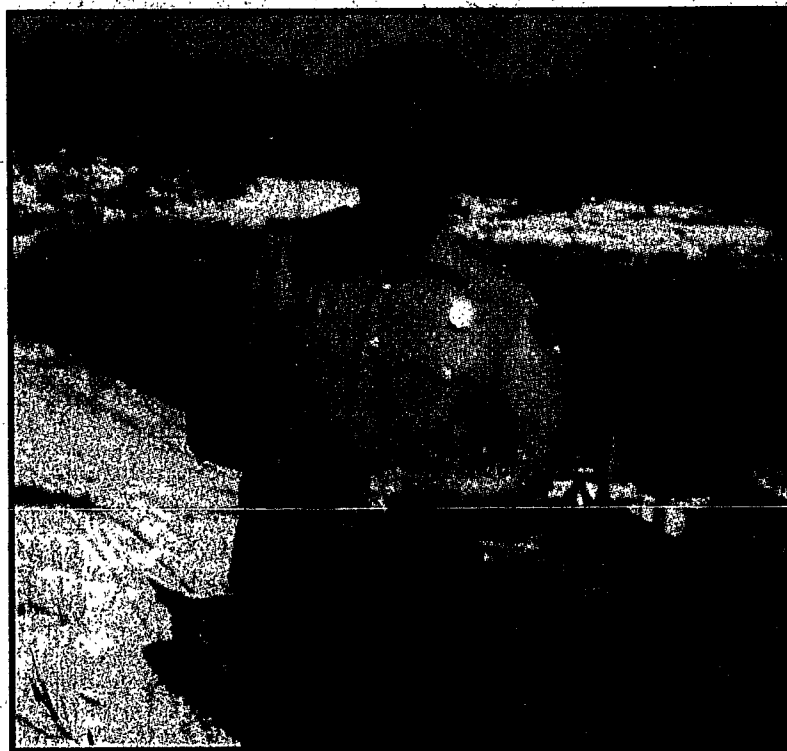

Ranger's dock

The National Park Service has a dock located about midway of Horn Island on the Sound side and a ranger's station on the island's center. Park rangers promote safety as one of their primary task for the thousands of visitors to the wilderness island each year.

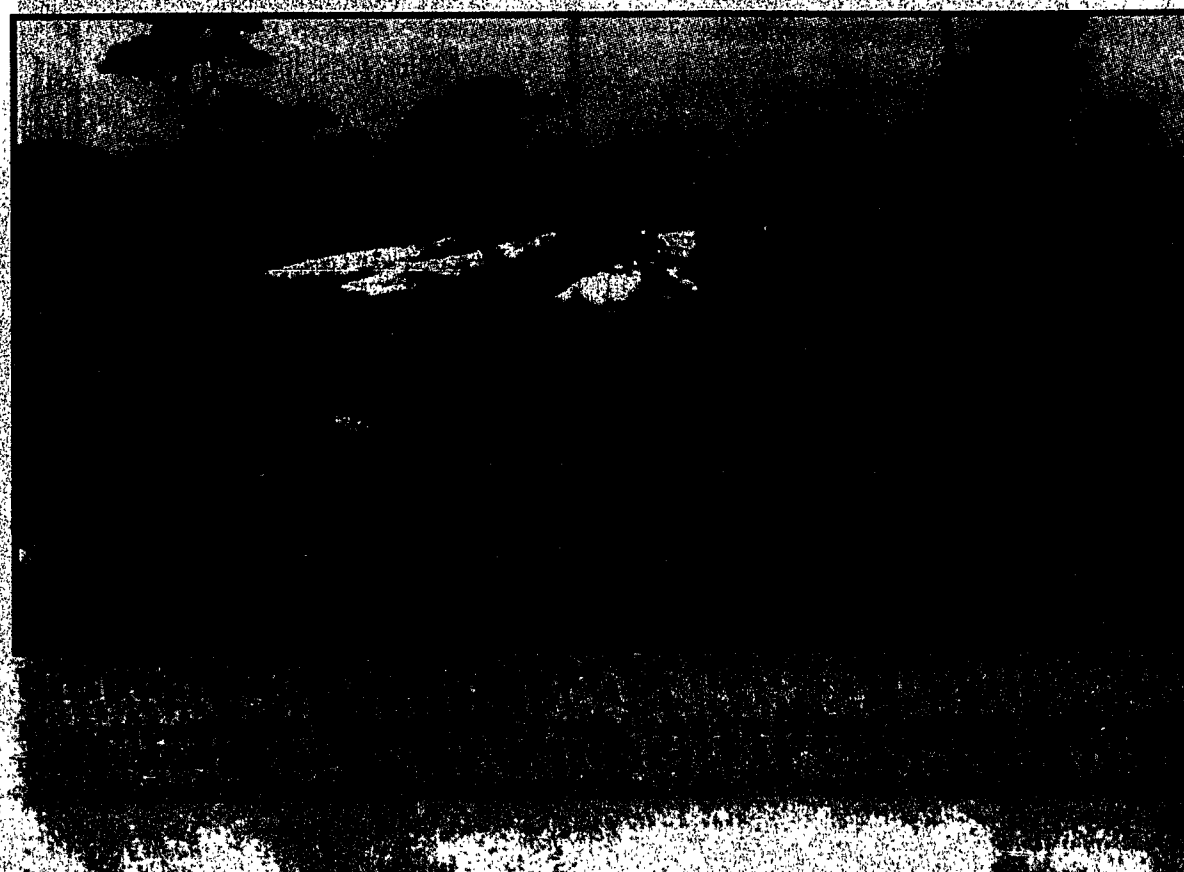

Interior marsh

Horn Island has several ponds lined with stands of marsh grasses which become nurseries for young fish, shrimp and crabs. (Echo staff photos by Ellis C. Cuevas)

A long travel

Mike Hobbs, National Park Service Ranger, checks a coconut with husk at the Gulf of Mexico side of Horn Island. Hobbs said they feel the coconut made the long journey most probably from Columbia or Cuba.

Pine forest

A National Park Service Ranger's path (above) runs from the Sound and Gulf to a ranger's station located in the center of Horn Island. Pine trees and other vegetation line the path's side. (Echo staff photos by Ellis C. Cuevas)

Newspaper staff

OLA begins student newspaper

Our Lady Academy students published the first issue of The Crescent Quarterly this fall. Senior Vicki McDonald is the editor of the new OLA newspaper. Faculty adviser is Anna DeMarco, member of the English Department.

The eight-page paper is named The Crescent Quarterly because it will be distributed at the end of each nine-week quarter for "the reasonable price of one shiny 25-cent piece," said McDonald.

In the first issue, McDonald said she and her staff hope to bring the students "the most creative and unique report of what's piqued the interest of OLA students on campus."

Student staff writers, who had articles printed, were Sarah Taylor, Amanda Vaughn, Mary Coludrovich, Katy Werby, Chevonne Daigre, Kim Frazier, Katy Muir, Melissa Niolet, Jennifer Rader, Ashley Vinnett and Lauren Hansell.

Student writers who had movie reviews printed were Connie Balentine, Shay Coss, Nina Crain, Leila Gargoum, Shelley Hanson, Erin Harshbarger, Nikki Hossey, De'Antra Lyons and Georgmarie Moore.

The Crescent Quarterly is a member of the Mississippi Scholastic Press Association.

CLUBS

Hancock County
Republican Women

All Hancock County Republican Women's Club members and guests are invited to attend the annual Christmas luncheon Thursday, Dec. 5 at 11 a.m. in the new special events room of the new Veranda Room at Casino Magic in Bay St. Louis. Cost is $12 per person and includes soup or salad, choice of roast beef, chicken or seafood entree, dessert and tea or coffee, tax and tip. Only wine or spirits will be an extra charge. Please phone reservations to club treasurer Juanita Brinsmade at 255-2622 and also mail your $12 checks to her. Reservations must be in by noon Dec. 3.

The normal business meeting will be dispensed with and will be replaced by a farewell to President Pat Reeb, followed by installation of newly-elected officers who will guide and serve for the forthcoming two-year term.

All members are also asked to bring an unwrapped child's gift. These gifts are taken to the Bay St. Louis Fire Department for distribution to needy area children.

Any questions not covered here, call Reeb at 255-4181.

Gulf Coast Opera Salon

The annual Syllabub Christmas party for Mississippi Gulf Coast Opera Salon members will be Dec. 12, 2-4 p.m. at the Gulf Oaks meeting room in Ocean Springs. There will be a program with madrigal singers and a sing-along.

The Opera Buff Award will be presented to Mrs. Legrand Audioun.

Teacher receives grant

Leslie Stone, first grade teacher at North Bay Elementary, has been awarded a grant from the Mississippi Power Foundation. The proposal "Nature's Wonders — Animal, Vegetable or Mineral" is a project to involve the community, parents and students in the construction of a natural environmental, hands-on life science area alive with learning. Stone states that "Nature's Wonders" is designed to reinvigorate teachers by providing alternative, high interest methods for instruction. Students' enthusiasm for learning will be elevated through direct experimentation.

Coast group hosts
symposium on stress

Emergency workers and mental health professionals on the Gulf Coast will host a national symposium on stress management for police, fire, ambulance and hospital emergency department personnel Dec. 5-8 at the Holiday Inn Airport on Hwy. 49 in Gulfport, 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. each day.

Philip Thomas, a paramedic with American Medical Response, said the event will "train concerned emergency and mental health personnel to help law enforcement, firefighting and emergency medical workers cope with the high stresses of their jobs."

Thomas noted that emergency workers pay a heavy emotional and physical price from job stress. Nationally, rates of suicide, substance abuse, heart attack, divorce domestic violence and employee burnout and turnover are high among emergency workers.

Thomas is a leader of the South Mississippi Critical Incident Stress Management (CISM) team, a two-year-old group which is co-sponsored by the symposium with the Maryland-based International Critical Incident Stress Foundation (ICISF).

Speakers will include internationally-recognized leaders in stress management for emergency workers, including Jeffrey Mitchell, PhD, a former Baltimore firefighter who became a psychologist and founded ICISF. A clinical professor at the University of Maryland, Dr. Mitchell is author of three texts on CISM and has lectured in all 50 states.

American Legion Auxiliary
Unit 139

The annual Halloween party, co-sponsored by the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 and the Hancock Medical Center, was Thursday, Oct. 31 in the hospital cafeteria. Youth and children chairman Hazel Wohlischlegel and volunteers Shirley Clemons, Charlotte Sellers, Billie Tudury and Roslyn Weathers served refreshments.

Thursday, Nov. 7, the ladies from the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 visited the Dixie White House Nursing Center in Pass Christian and entertained the residents. Jane Lance, director of activities, had the residents assembled in the day room. Lena Mae Oustalet played the piano as Roslyn Weathers led the singing. Mrs. Lance and the residents thanked the ladies for the entertainment.

Tuesday, Nov. 19, Unit 139 ladies visited the Woodland Village Nursing Center in Pass Christian. Judy Jackson, director of activities, had the residents waiting in the rec room. Lena Mae Oustalet played the piano as Roslyn Weathers led the singing of favorite songs.

Thursday, Nov. 21, the ladies of Unit 139 visited the Hotel Reed Nursing Center for the monthly birthday party. Jackie Burnett, director of activities, had the room filled with residents waiting to be entertained. The November celebrants thanked the ladies for remembering their birthdays with song and presents.

Lena Mae Oustalet played the piano as Roslyn Weathers led the singing. The staff served refreshments.

Ballroom
dancers
to organize

The United States Amateur Ballroom Dancers Association (USABDA) announced a chapter for ballroom dancers is being organized in the Gulfport area. Della Singh, of Gulfport, has been designated as coordinator. A steering committee of local dancers is being formed and enrollment of members is underway.

USABDA, a non-profit, volunteer organization, is the governing body for amateur ballroom dancing in the United States and has chapters all over the country.

The local chapter will sponsor monthly dances for members and the public. Typically, each dance will consist of a one-hour dance lesson, followed by three hours of general dancing as well as dance demonstration.

The chapter also will promote ballroom dance training in local colleges and high schools, and will seek to increase the number of business establishments that offer ballroom dancing to the public. Membership will be open to singles as well as couples. Beginners are welcome and will be helped to get started.

For information, call Della Singh at 601-896-4475.

BAY CARPET

"The Carpet Experts"

Take just a few moments to walk through your home and look down at your floors. Is your carpet worn or your vinyl old and tired looking? If so, then you owe it to yourself to visit Rudy Jung's Bay Carpet, Inc., also known as "the carpet experts". That name is well deserved considering Rudy Jung has been in the flooring business for almost 20 years.

Locally owned and operated by Clare and Rudy Jung, Bay Carpet, Inc. is located in Choctaw Plaza, Waveland. The extensive showroom features carpet, vinyl, hard wood flooring, ceramic tile as well as vinyl tile in quality name brands such as Mannington, Armstrong, Congoleum, Bruce and many others.

In addition to flooring, Bay Carpet, Inc. also offers custom mini-blinds, vertical blinds and beautiful custom made fabric awnings. If you can't make it to the showroom, don't worry, either Rudy Jung or Chuck Jung will make a house call and measure your floor space to determine exactly what your home or office needs. Bay Carpet also gives free estimates too!

Once you've selected the perfect flooring to beautify your home or office, Bay Carpet, Inc. will see to it that your new flooring is expertly installed and all work is warranted.

At Rudy Jung's Bay Carpet, Inc., service to the customer is their number one priority and with such quality products, expert installation and high standards, it is no wonder why Bay Carpet, Inc. since 1983, has been known as "the carpet experts".

Visit Clare and Rudy Jung at Bay Carpet, Inc. or call 467-5000 to arrange for a house call.

Getting Down To The Basics Of Arm And Shoulder Pain

Arm and shoulder pain may have a variety of causes or may have a variety of names. But whatever the cause or name given to the condition, they all share one common ingredient—pain. The pain may be of the constant, dull, throbbing variety. Possibly, it is a sharp, stabbing sensation that comes and goes. Often the pain will worsen with increased activity. Whatever the cause or sensation of the pain, all victims share one basic desire—be rid of the pain.

Often they seek relief through heating pads, liniment rubs, pills or injections. These may produce temporary relief, but they fail to prevent new pain from returning again and again. Normal activity such as combing the hair, reaching into an overhead shelf, or putting on an overcoat may become a major undertaking for the victim of arm and shoulder pain.

Essentially, the causes for arm and shoulder pain can be broken down into two basic types:

The first type we will call "exciting" causes. Among the chief exciting causes are sleeping in a draft, sitting with an air conditioner blowing on one side of the neck, driving in the country with the car window rolled down so that air strikes one side of neck, or sleeping on the stomach with the head turned to one side. If there is weakness in the neck or upper region of the spine, the victim is even more susceptible to the above exciting causes.

The second major cause of arm and shoulder pain could be called the "true" cause. This is a spinal misalignment that causes a pinching or pressure upon one or more of the nerves that lead into the affected area. This disorder may first appear as acute neuritis and if not corrected it will progress into chronic neuritis or arthritis, making it harder to correct.

While the victims of arm and shoulder pain can eliminate exciting causes from their lifestyle once they are discovered. Spinal misalignment are not self-correcting and need professional care.

Doctors of Chiropractic are trained in the important aspects of diagnosing and correcting spinal misalignments and are believed by many to be first line of defense against arm and shoulder pain.

The "WORD" for the Week

Dennis J. Prutow, Box 303, Sterling, KS 67579

Christmas is the fullness of time

The Bible says, "When the fullness of time came, God sent forth His Son" (Galatians 4:4). When the Bible speaks here of time, it means the ages from Adam until the birth of Christ. This period of time was filled up with all sorts of events.

WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Miller Jr.

Miller Burge

Crystal Gayle Burge and Johnny Ray Miller Jr., both of Waveland, were united in marriage September 28, 1996 at the Fenton Community Center with Judge Joe Dobson officiating. The bride is a daughter of Jan Taylor and Richard Bourgeois of Diamondhead.

The groom is a son of Lynn and Marvin Lynn of Bay St. Louis. The bride was given in marriage by Richard Bourgeois. For the occasion the bride chose a white satin gown with a light sweep. She wore a white veil decorated with pearls and carried a bouquet of pink and white roses interspersed with baby's breath. Matron of honor was Christie Blackwell.

Bridesmaids were Patricia Taylor, sister of the bride, and Jo Taylor, aunt of the bride. Best man was Scott Miller, brother of the groom, and usher was Jason Gros, cousin of the groom.

A reception followed the ceremony. The bride was honored with a shower the eve before the wedding.

The couple resides in Waveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Barton Jude Boehm Jr.

Boehm-Curtis

Bridget Lee Baum Curtis and Barton Jude Boehm Jr. were wed in a handfasting ceremony October 12, 1996 at War Memorial Park.

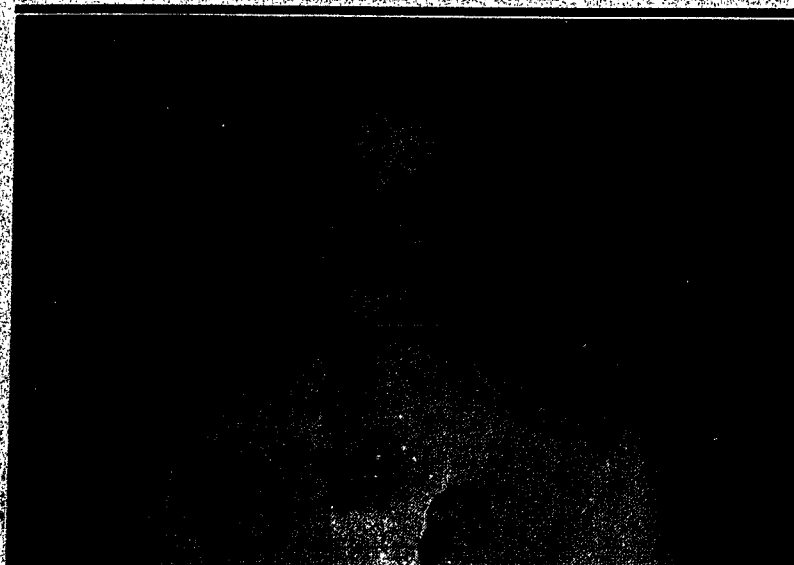

The bride is a daughter of Mr. Ronald Baum and Mrs. Elaine Reddit, both of Bay St. Louis.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Aiello of Waveland. Matron of honor was Mrs. Stacen Tyskiewicz, and bridesmaids were Margaret Masterson and Tammy Raphael.

Flower girls were Lauren Zimmerman and Braniessa Baum. Best man was Joseph Aiello, and groomsmen were Scott Lusich and Rick Perry.

Usherette was Amy Lusich. A Thanksgiving buffet reception followed the ceremony at the VFW Hall in Pass Christian.

A candlelight outdoor dinner was hosted by the groom's parents. The couple plans to honeymoon in the spring, touring the United States West Coast. They reside in Bay St. Louis.

Teacher of the Month

Ms. [Name] was selected Teacher of the Month for the [Month] at Bay Middle School. She is currently working on a grant to improve the school's grounds.

We might mention the great flood, the building of the tower of Babel, the bondage of Israel in Egypt and the rise and fall of empires. God filled time with all these events (Acts 17:26). When God properly filled this time period, He sent forth His Son. In this way God fixed the date of Christ's birth.

To understand Christmas, you must understand "the fullness of time." It means God created time. He caused the Roman empire to prosper. He brought Mary and Joseph into the world. He caused Mary and Joseph to travel to Bethlehem. How? God caused Caesar to require every family in the Empire to travel to the city of their birth for tax purposes. Then God sent forth His Son. This is a grand view of time and of history.

God is not the hapless victim of time and history. He did not stand by eagerly looking for an opportunity to send His Son. He is the God of time and of history. He prepared history for His Son. Christmas is the fullness of time.

Don't Be So Serious—Lighten Up!

The medical community is discovering that many illnesses can be helped by a person's attitude. It appears that an individual's demeanor is an essential ingredient of good health, and the way that we respond to our problems and concerns can affect our well-being. Of course, proper nutrition, exercise, and a healthy lifestyle also play an important role in our daily lives. However, we have to lighten up and not take everything so seriously. Things usually aren't as bad as we make them out to be and life should be wonderful when we put everything in its proper perspective. Jesus said that He came that we might have life in all its fullness, so whenever we feel anxious about something, we should understand that no problem is too large for God. We should pray often, and always try to do our very best, knowing that we can always expect great things from our Father in Heaven.

No life is so hard that you can't make it easier by the way you take it. —Ellen Glasgow

...I have come in order that you might have life—in life in all its fullness. —Good News Bible John 10:10

Public Notice

ORDINANCE NO. 382
AN ORDINANCE PROHIBITING AND REGULATING THE OPEN STORAGE OF CERTAIN ITEMS AND THE HEIGHT OF CERTAIN GROWTH ON IMPROVED AND UNIMPROVED PROPERTY WITHIN THE CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS, MISSISSIPPI
BE IT ORDAINED BY THE GOVERNING AUTHORITY OF THE CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS, MISSISSIPPI AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Open Storage of Certain Items.
It shall be unlawful for the owner or occupant of any premises, improved or unimproved, to use said premises for the open storage of abandoned motor vehicles, household appliances, glass, trash, debris, garbage, refuse or similar items. "Abandoned motor vehicle" shall mean a motor vehicle that is in a state of disrepair and incapable of moving under its own power, or that does not bear a current license plate and a current valid inspection sticker.

Section 2. Accumulation of Certain Items.
It shall be unlawful for the owner or occupant of any premises, improved or unimproved, to permit to accumulate or remain on said premises, or to use said premises for the accumulation or storage of, or to store, bricks or stones and similar items which may be used as a harborage for rats, mice, snakes, lizards or other vermin, unless the items are placed on open racks and elevated not less than eighteen (18) inches above the ground, with a clear intervening space underneath, to prevent the harborage of said rats, mice, snakes, lizards and other vermin.

Section 3. Height of Weeds, Grass and Plants.
It shall be unlawful for any owner or occupant of any premises, improved or unimproved, to permit weeds, grass or uncultivated plants to grow upon such premises to a height greater than thirty (30) inches of an average or to grow in rank profusion thereon. Any premises upon which weeds, grass or uncultivated plants grow above such height or in rank profusion shall be deemed a public nuisance. This section shall not apply to any property which is in its "natural condition," which is defined as being uncultivated and uncultivated land, still in a state of nature. However, "natural condition" does not apply once a property has been cleared of weeds, grass or plants, even though it has not been planted or cultivated by anyone.

Section 4. Penalty for Violation.
Violations of this ordinance are punishable by a fine not exceeding $1,000.00 or by imprisonment not exceeding 90 days, or both. Every day any such violation shall continue shall constitute a separate offense. Any and all other ordinances or parts thereof in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Section 5. Conflicting Ordinance.
This ordinance shall take effect thirty (30) days following its adoption.

Councilman Black moved, seconded by Councilman Thriftley, that Ordinance No. 382, entitled, "AN ORDINANCE PROHIBITING AND REGULATING THE OPEN STORAGE OF CERTAIN ITEMS AND THE HEIGHT OF CERTAIN GROWTH ON IMPROVED AND UNIMPROVED PROPERTY WITHIN THE CITY OF BAY ST. LOUIS, MISSISSIPPI" be adopted.

A vote was called for by the following response:
VOTING YEA: Thriftley, Fann, and Black.
VOTING NAY: Ruthen and Solinas.
Whereupon Council President Ruthen declared the foregoing Ordinance No. 382 adopted this, the 19th day of November, 1996.

Attest: Andrea L. Lee
